Court Reporting

At Litigation Services Corporation, we have a passion for excellence in everything we do. We use the latest in deposition technology, delivering searchable transcripts and exhibits to you electronically, as well as making them available online. We can integrate our work product with LiveNote, Summation, Concordance, Trial Director, Sanction and many other popular litigation related software systems. You can count on our highly experienced court reporters to do their jobs so that you can focus on doing yours.

Videography

Do more with your video. Litigation Services brings its technological expertise to video depositions, allowing you to create a powerful video record. We provide video depositions that are easy to use by synchronizing the electronic transcript and encoded video. With the addition of scanned and linked exhibits, we can create a fully electronic version of the transcript ready for quick and easy search, review, clip creation and use at trial.

Online Calendar

We offer an innovative online calendar that allows you to easily schedule depositions and view your calendar via the internet. You can create specialized access for multiple users and we provide automated email confirmations for scheduled and cancelled depositions - so you and your entire team are always "in the loop". Calendar information can be filtered by case or date and you can quickly view your updated witness lists. Coordinating your deposition calendar has never been easier.

Live Web Streaming

Control costs and increase the power of your deposition experience. For depositions near and far, Litigation Services offers live text and video deposition streaming via the internet. Team members, clients and experts can watch depositions as they happen and provide instant feedback and advice from any high-speed internet connection.

Online Archive

Access to deposition testimony is now at your fingertips. Whether you need a last minute copy or want to avoid keeping stacks of depositions on file at your office, our easy-to-use web based deposition archive gives you 24/7 access to your transcripts and exhibits.

Global Scheduling

Litigation Services and its partners provide deposition services throughout the United States and the World. You can rely on us to provide quality services wherever you go so that you can focus on the witness, not the location. A quick call or online booking is all it takes – we do the rest.
